CITY OF OGDEN IS PRACTICALLY DRY

Sixteen-Inch Plug in Cross Joint of Water Main Bursts—Temporary Wooden Plug to Be Made—Mayor Besieged With Calls From Every Direction.

It is not necessary to lower the lid to make Ogden go dry. Just break the plug in the water main and the city becomes separated from a water supply. The city has practically been "dry" a number of hours today, the misery that caused it being more serious, perhaps, than many may fully realize. It teaches a splendid object lesson, at least.

Since 9:30 this morning only 15 pounds of water pressure has been furnished the city, the cause being the bursting of a 16-inch cast iron plug in the cross joint of the water main at the intersection of Taylor avenue and Twenty-fifth street. How the plug was broken cannot be understood, inasmuch as the main is three feet underground and there is no possible chance for anyone to get at it to strike it with a sledge hammer or other instrument. It just broke, that is all. The plug has been in the main for a long time and the workers in the waterworks department state that every man in the department of the long period of time has so weakened the piece of cast iron that it was no longer strong enough to withstand the great pressure.

The break placed the waterworks department in an awkward position, because it was found in looking over the supply of fixtures and extras that there was not a single 16-inch plug in the lot. This meant that a wooden plug had to be turned, and the process of doing that caused considerable delay. But every man in the department got busy, and all available help has been employed in the task of getting to the main and removing the parts of the broken plug, and the placing of the one made of wood. The city could have been completely without water during this time had it not been that there was a little space in the main below the broken parts, through which some water could be drawn. This furnished about 15 pounds pressure and made it possible to furnish a small supply of water to the distributing system below Adams avenue. The pressure was low during last night and it is thought that the plug began to leak way early in the evening of yesterday, finally breaking loose this morning.

The fire underwriters have predicted that just such thing as this would happen to Ogden some day, and that if a fire should break out before the repairs to the water main could be made it would be disastrous to the city. They have contended that for Ogden to get the best fire insurance rate the city should have a double main leading to the distributing system. They say today that this is an object lesson that may bring the taxpayers to the realization that they have been living in constant danger of being choked for water at any time, or their buildings endangered.

It seems imperative that the water system of the city have another main extending from the reservoirs to the distributing system. This is necessary, first, because more water is needed in the city, and second, if one of the mains should be broken the other would be intact and the city would be protected against fire, and a water famine. The proposed bond issue will add the city administration in improving the water system to a point of efficiency that today seems to be denied. Who knows, but that providence has directed the breaking of the 16-inch plug that the people might awaken to the necessity of voting bonds for the betterment of the system.

Mayor Glassmann is besieged this afternoon with telephone messages asking why there is no water, many of the communicants saying: "Turn on the water, Mayor, we will vote the bonds." We see the point.

JAPANESE PLACED ON TRIAL

The trial of Y. Nabashima and E. Hina, the Japanese proprietors of the White Ship saloon on Twenty-fourth street, was taken up before Judge Murphy this morning, but will not be concluded until next Monday.

The Japanese defendants are charged with selling liquor to Frank Brown, a minor, the testimony of the young man supporting the allegations. He stated on the witness stand that on August 13th he went to the White Ship saloon and purchased of E. Hina a number of glasses of beer and a half pint of whiskey. That he drank the beer and whiskey and became very drunk; so drunk that he did not remember when the officers brought him to the police station. He also stated that at other times he had purchased drink at the place.

At the conclusion of the testimony for the city, on motion of the attorney for the defense, Y. Nabashima was discharged, the evidence of the possession not connecting him in any way with the alleged offense.

George Young, a plumber, testified that he was in the saloon when young Brown asked for beer and that the bartender, Hina, refused to sell it to him. He also stated that the boy entered the place and drank of the saloon and was in such a state of intoxication that he fell at the bar and had to be helped to his feet. Young also stated that Brown was abusive to the Jap when he refused to sell him liquor.

The case was continued until Monday.

Much good is being accomplished through the organization and its members have co-operated in many public enterprises and efforts to get better railroad facilities and rates, and for the protection of the wholesale and jobbing interests here.

ROOSEVELT DENIES SENDING ULTIMATUM

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Theodore Roosevelt denied emphatically today that he had sent an ultimatum to President Taft demanding that the president break with Vice President Sherman. Col. Roosevelt's attention was called to a report that L. C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican committee, was going to the White House next week to discuss the terms of peace between the two men.

The report had it that Mr. Sherman was chiefly responsible for the action of the state committee in refusing to select Col. Roosevelt as temporary chairman of the New York temporary Republican committee and substitute for the vice president.

"I have sent no ultimatum to President Taft," the colonel said. "The report is a tissue of falsehood from beginning to end."

The colonel added that he had not sent Mr. Griscom or any one else to Beverly on any mission. He made it clear he had no intention of doing so and recognized no situation which could call for such a step.

SHERMAN MAY MAKE A HARMONY ANNOUNCEMENT.

New York, Aug. 20.—Republican leaders here today heard the report that Vice President Sherman might announce in the interest of harmony that he fully never understood the position in which he was placed when he let his name go before the New York state committee for temporary chairman of the state convention that he would retire in order that Col. Roosevelt might have the unanimous vote of the committee for the temporary chairmanship.

JUDGE HELD A SHORT SESSION

There was little to be done by Judge Murphy in the police court this morning, because he had few subjects to pass judgment on.

J. Davis stated that he was guilty of having been "unlawfully drunk" August 13th. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or serve five days in the city jail at hard labor.

William Preston denied that he was a "vag" and he was given a hearing. Officer Kellner stated that the man had been loitering around town for a number of days and that he had no means of support. He also stated that the fellow undertook to formulate a plan of operation by which he could rob a man by the name of Irish of $40, and that he suggested to a bartender that the fellow would aid him in turning the trick, he would "split" the money with him.

Judge Murphy suggested to the fellow that it would be well for him to leave the city instantly, and seek work in his home town, Salt Lake City. The man left the court room with an expression of joy on his face, saying that he would shake Ogden dust from his feet and "make Salt Lake in a hurry." The court further advised Preston that if he was picked up in Ogden again he would enforce a 90-days' suspended sentence.

Grace Roy, a colored woman, failed to appear and answer the charge of vagrancy. Her bond in the sum of $10 was declared forfeited.

One Benny A. Brock, charged with riding a bicycle on one of the sidewalks of the city did not answer the call of his name and his bail was forfeited.

tion for president, held here today, it was decided to organize a folk program in the Democratic leagues in the New England states, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

CREATED A ROUGH HOUSE

A. Bastron was fined $10 this morning for attempting to collect a bill with his fists and loud and tumultuous noises. The complaint alleged that he disturbed the peace of August Nelson by his peculiar method of settling accounts.

The testimony given before Judge Murphy was to the effect that Bastron while doing some carpenter work for Jensen suddenly concluded that he would give up the job. He did so, and demanded his wages be paid immediately. Mr. Jensen told him he would settle with him as soon as he could see the bookkeeper and have a check written. This would not do for Bastron and he proceeded to create a rough house.

TAYLOR SEES CHANGE IN CONSERVATION VIEWS

Portland, Ore., Aug. 20.—William L. Taylor, ex-attorney general of Indiana, who, with his wife, is on a tour of the west, declares his view has brought about a change of views on conservation.

"This is my first trip through the west," said Mr. Taylor, "and it only requires a glance to grasp the situation. I have an entirely different view of conservation than when I left Indiana. The power stored in the mountains and streams can hardly be developed. The conservation should be to develop the power instead of keeping it locked up. Of course, laws should be passed so that this great power could not come into the possession of individuals, but the barring out of everyone is not the remedy."

"I believe that if every man in the east who favors radical conservation should visit the west and study the situation as I have done he would change his views. I am convinced that the west should have something to say about a conservation policy."

They were alone in the house.

HILL DECLARES STORY TO BE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—Samuel Hill, son-in-law of James J. Hill, declared last night that he had no knowledge of legal proceedings begun by Mrs. James J. Hill in the courts of New York to secure the custody of his eldest daughter, Miss Mary Hill. He also said that the dispatch which gave the purpose of the proceeding as a desire on the part of Mrs. James J. Hill to educate Miss Mary Hill in the Catholic church, was clearly an error, as he was most friendly with the representatives of that faith.

When Mr. Hill was interviewed he was at dinner at his home, and one of the guests was the Rev. Emil Kaute, Catholic chaplain of Providence hospital. Father Kaute also stated that the dispatch was in error so far as the attitude of Mr. Hill toward the Catholic church was implied.

"I do not know what the dispatch means," said Mr. Hill. "I have been served with no legal papers, and I can say that my daughter Mary has not been served with any legal summons."

ARMORED CRUISER BREAKS MOORINGS AT MARE ISLAND.

Vallejo, Cal., Aug. 20.—The armored cruiser South Dakota broke its moorings at the Mare Island quay wall today and drifted down the channel, colliding with the naval tug Unadilla, and coming to a stop on the mud flats. The Unadilla was badly damaged, a hole being stove in her side and her deck sprung. She is leaning badly and has been unable to get away since the accident. The South Dakota is believed to have sustained no damage beyond a hole in her side. The tug active is standing by the cruiser which, it is expected, will be floated at high tide. The accident is attributed to the moorings giving way owing to the heavy strain of the strong tide tugging at the vessel. The vessel was to have been docked today.

THE PROFESSIONS MOST FAVORABLE TO DIVORCE

What profession should you choose in order to be happily married? Not that of actor, for the statistics of every country clearly demonstrate that the stage is of all callings most favorable to divorce. Actors and professional showmen are at the head of the list of divorcing couples. After these come musicians and teachers of music, and then—but long intervals—commercial travelers. One would expect to see sailors close at hand, but they are far down the list. A divorced sailor is a great rarity, almost as rare as a divorced butcher. And fewer than three farmers are divorced for every seventy-three actors, a most striking instance of the influence of rural occupation upon the emotions. And clergyman, as you should be, at the very bottom of the list.

Mr. McNally, who is more than 50 years of age, is suffering from kidney trouble and a general breakdown. For a long time past close friends have aided him in what he has been doing, but he has been refused anything resembling charity, that it has been difficult for those who desired to aid him to do so.

Now, however, the old miner is virtually alone, and his friends are raising a fund with which to keep him comfortable. Those desiring to aid in the worthy cause are asked to leave contributions at Lavelle's cigar store, No. 10 West Second South street.

lands in this state on a 10 per cent contingent fee declared Mr. Long and Mr. Thurston. Both had been employed as counsel.

In endeavoring to secure approval of the contracts, the witness said, Mr. Long had called on President Taft and Mr. Thurston had called on Attorney General Wickersham who was asked to explain exactly what the former senator had done with the contracts.

"You don't call visiting the president and visiting the attorney general advising upon legal matters, do you?" asked Representative E. W. Saunders.

McMurray declared the visits were made in relation to legal phases.

McMurray was compelled to be in Washington to seek approval of his contracts and he selected the former senators as counsel because he believed they were well qualified to assist him.

Questioned about Cecil A. Lyon, National Republican committeeman of Texas, the witness said certain indictments were pending against the McMurray law firm in connection with the $750,000 fee paid in 1905 in the citizenship cases. Mr. Lyon had been convicted that the indictments were not well founded and used his influence at Washington to have an investigation started.

RICH WOMAN EVICTED FROM HER HOME

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Miss Deloripa Richardson, said to be worth more than $300,000, was evicted today from the home in which she had lived since her birth fifty years ago, because she would not surrender possession to the man to whom she had sold it. A city marshal finally had to chop his way through the front door.

Miss Richardson is one of the wealthiest women in the world. When her father, Joseph Richardson, died in 1897 she inherited the bulk of his great fortune, and has since lived frugally with a maiden cousin, though she said her husband would never allow the buyer on the premises and had to make his plans for rebuilding it from outside observances. While the marshal's men pried the frayed old-fashioned furniture from the sidewalk today, Miss Richardson followed them about protesting that their actions were outrageous and that she would complain to Mayor Gaynor.

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Two more arrests were made today in connection with the wool from the Boston and Maine railroad and various Massachusetts woolen mills. The men arrested, Eam. Parkins and John J. Ross, are charged with the misappropriation of the wool which will aggregate $50,000.

$2,400 PACKAGE DISAPPEARS.

SAYBROOK, Conn., Aug. 19.—A package containing $2,400 sent by express yesterday to be used in paying off laborers employed on construction work has disappeared. A stranger went to the express office and called for the package. At the time the money was misappropriated. The police of nearby cities have been notified.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 20.—What returner Senator Chester L. Long of Kansas and former Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, have with the so-called McMurray contracts was described by J. E.
